

Dear Parent/Carer,

The NSPCC visited our school today and delivered their Speak out. Stay safe. assembly which aims to help children to stay safe online and learn how to deal with cyber bullying. – you may have seen their TV advert – ‘sticks and stones may hurt my bones, but words....’

That’s why we’re raising money to help the NSPCC’s work in schools and we hope you will support us to do this.

Children will be taking part in Buddy’s Sponsored Skipathon, organised by Mr Longstaff, as part of our PE lessons on Wednesday 8th May.

If you would like to support your child and the work of the NSPCC please sign the sponsor form which will be sent home shortly and return it and any money raised to school by Wednesday 15th May.

To make it easier, if you have more than one child in school simply put all your children’s names at the top of one form.

To say thank you, every child that attended the assembly today will receive a Speak out. Stay safe. Buddy sticker. And every child who takes part in the activity later will receive a special Buddy badge.

But more than that, they can also be proud that every penny raised will make a significant difference for children. By supporting the NSPCC we can work together to end child abuse.
